NEW ORLEANS – The New Orleans Museum of Art (NOMA) is pleased to announce and welcome Natrang Stanley as the museum's Human Resources Manager. Ms. Stanley officially began her role as HR Manager on Monday, Jan. 11, 2021.

Ms. Stanley brings more than two decades of experience to NOMA's HR department. Her work has involved cross-functional roles, with responsibility for human resources, training, and serving as a liaison to staff and leadership in the creation of an equitable work environment. Prior to joining NOMA, Ms. Stanley served as the Accounting and Human Relations Manager at Eskew Dumez Ripple+.

"Ms. Stanley is an important addition to our team here at NOMA," said Susan Taylor, NOMA's Montine McDaniel Freeman Director. "Her experience spans multiple areas including human resources and finance in legal, higher education, arts and business settings. We have confidence in her leadership and look forward to her many contributions."

"I am thrilled to begin my new role as HR Manager and am excited to see what we will accomplish together at NOMA," said Stanley. "I am ready to do all that I can to ensure the employees at NOMA are supported as they progress on their professional tracks at the organization."

Ms. Stanley, a native New Orleanian, received her Bachelor of Arts in public administration from Southern University at New Orleans and Master of Business Administration from the University of Mary in Bismarck, North Dakota. Outside the office, Ms. Stanley enjoys spending time with her family. She is also a board member with the Louisiana Outdoors Outreach Program (LOOP NOLA), where she volunteers.

About NOMA and the Besthoff Sculpture Garden

The New Orleans Museum of Art, founded in 1910 by Isaac Delgado, houses more than 40,000 works of art encompassing 5,000 years of history. Works from the permanent collection, along with continuously changing special exhibitions, are on view in the museum's 46 galleries Thursday through Sunday, 10 AM to 6 PM. The adjoining Sydney and Walda Besthoff Sculpture Garden features work by more than 90 sculptures, including works from several 20th and 21st-century master sculptors. NOMA's Besthoff Sculpture Garden is open to the public Wednesday through Sunday, 9:30 AM to 5 PM. The New Orleans Museum of Art and the Besthoff
