

SCAVENGER HUNT

The large-scale photographs in Robert Polidori: Recollections—installed in the Great Hall—give a peek into places around the world. Polidori is known for his ability to capture spaces in transition, and his images benefit from close looking. Often, a tiny detail can change how you see the entire scene.

Search for these items in Polidori's photographs, and write the title of the photograph on the line below.
